

Session 2: Roundtable discussions on current and future international tax priorities

Guiding Questions

- What are the top three priorities that your jurisdiction is currently facing within the international tax landscape, and what are the specific concerns? How do these international tax priorities support increased domestic resource mobilisation to support national development?
- What do you consider the most significant obstacles to implementing international tax measures in your jurisdiction, what are the specific challenges involved and what changes or support would be needed to overcome these barriers and ensure successful implementation?
- What capacity-building support has your jurisdiction received, or is currently receiving, from development partners to respond to these international tax priorities? Have any of these partners collaborated on specific areas of work within your jurisdiction and how effective has the coordination been amongst them? How could development partners better support your jurisdiction in reinforcing your jurisdiction's capacity in international tax matters?
- What do you see as the top three future priorities that your jurisdiction faces within the international tax landscape? How has your jurisdiction started to react to them (for example, internal analysis, increased staff recruitment, utilisation of new technologies, assessment of external factors)?
